India surpasses one Billion tonnes in coal production: Minister Kishan Reddy

Union Minister for Coal and Mines, Kishan Reddy, announced that India has surpassed the milestone of producing one billion tonnes of coal. He credited this achievement to the adoption of efficient and advanced mining techniques, which have significantly increased production. Speaking on the occasion, Minister Reddy emphasised that this success will help meet the growing electricity demand across the country while also contributing to economic growth. He highlighted that India is emerging as a global leader in the energy sector, strengthening its position as a key player. Acknowledging the relentless efforts of coal industry workers, the minister extended his appreciation, stating that their dedication and commitment were the driving force behind reaching this milestone. He reiterated that the government's focus on modernising the coal sector has played a crucial role in achieving this target. This achievement is expected to further enhance India's energy security and support its economic ambitions in the coming years.

Harish Rao Slams Government Over Broken Promises and Land Acquisition

Hyderabad: Senior BRS leader and former minister Harish Rao has criticised the Telangana government for allegedly going back on its pre-election promises. He accused the ruling party of altering its commitments after coming to power, particularly regarding the Layout Regularisation Scheme (LRS) and the Pharma City land acquisition. Harish Rao pointed out that before the elections, the government had assured people that LRS would not be implemented. However, after coming to power, it had reversed its stance and was now forcefully collecting fees from citizens. He also reminded the public that the current leaders had previously opposed the acquisition of farmlands for Pharma City. "They once fought against taking away farmers' lands, but now, they are forcibly snatching them from the very same farmers," he alleged. His remarks come amidst growing discontent among certain sections of the public over policy changes and land acquisition practices.

Telangana CM Revanth Reddy to visit Chennai for all-party meeting on delimitation Hyderabad : Telangana Chief Minister Revanth Reddy is set to visit Chennai this evening. Accompanying him on the trip will be Mahesh Goud. The visit comes ahead of an all-party meeting scheduled for tomorrow, where CM Revanth Reddy will take part in discussions. The meeting, chaired by Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M.K. Stalin, will focus on the issue of delimitation. Delimitation, which involves redrawing electoral boundaries, has been a subject of political debate, with various parties expressing concerns over its potential impact. The discussions in Chennai are expected to address key aspects of the process and its implications for different states. CM Revanth Reddy's participation highlights Telangana's involvement in the ongoing discussions on electoral reforms. Further details on the meeting's outcomes are awaited.

Traffic jam occurs on Srisailem-Dornala ghat road following lorry breakdown

A massive traffic jam has formed on the Srisailem-Dornala Ghat road, extending approximately 5 kilometers from Thummalabailu towards Srisailem. The disruption was caused by a lorry overloaded with sand that stalled at a critical turn on the Ghat road, leading to significant delays for motorists and passengers. The incident has resulted in severe congestion, with vehicles unable to move in either direction. Commuters are facing considerable challenges as they attempt to navigate the blocked road, and the ongoing situation is causing frustration among those caught in the gridlock. Authorities are being urged to address the situation promptly to alleviate the traffic bottleneck and assist stranded motorists. Until the lorry is removed and normal traffic flow is restored, travelers should expect delays on this vital route.

Former MLA Vallabhaneni Vamsi bail petition hearing deferred to March 26

The bail petition hearing for Vallabhaneni Vamsi, former MLA and YSRCP leader, has been postponed until the 26th of this month. The case, which involves allegations of kidnapping and threatening complainant Satyavardhan during an assault on the Gannavaram TDP offices, is currently being reviewed in the Vijayawada SC and ST court. During the proceedings, attorneys for both sides presented their arguments, marking the third round of discussions on the matter. Vamsi's lawyer asserted that his client was unjustly implicated in the case and highlighted health concerns as a reason for granting bail. The lawyer further emphasized that Vamsi has been in remand for over a month, making a compelling case for his immediate release. The court will reconvene on the 26th to continue deliberations on the bail petition.

Aam Aadmi Party conducted a survey on Government schools infrastructure

Hyderabad March 21, Metro Udayam

Aam Aadmi Party volunteers has been serve state-wide Government schools and diocese till April 14th. The birthday of constitutional producer BR Ambedkar from March 23rd. Dr.Diddi Sudhakar has demanded an increase in education and medicine in the state budget. It is well known that today's children are in the forefront of tomorrow's citizens and educational country. Aam Aadmi Party is a major factor in education and medicine. The constitution has been asked to provide free education and doctors to all the right to educate our constitutional producer. But in practice it is not happening. In our state, only 7.5% of the budget is allocated for education. The Congress government should increase 15% as in their manifesto. For the past week, in the city, Himayath Nagar, Ramnagar, Champapet, Saibnagar, Ramantapur, BN Reddy Nagar and various government schools Aam Aadmi Party have been serve. In almost all schools, Teachers are in the schools but not good water, sanitation workers, attenders and sports facilities in almost all schools. It is reported that almost all schools are running with the help of private donors. Mid day meals have a little benefit to children and should be provided with nutritious food. School uniforms are supplied but the legs are hurt by many students without sandals. If there is such a situation in the city itself, you can imagine how in districts and villages. On April 15th, memorandums are being submitted to the collectors of the respective districts and explaining the situation of schools and documents. The Maha Dharna will be held at Dharnachowk on April 17th to increase the budget in the state education as a 15% increase in its election manifesto. Dr. Diddi Sudhakar Convener AAP Telangana, Youth Leaders Vijay Mallangi, Women Leader Sudharani, Javid Sharif, Dorapalli Satish Kumar, Rakesh Reddy, Babulal Pawar and Rakesh participated in the school survey.

IF NOT NOW WHEN?

Is it proper time to start?
Can the work be commenced now itself?
Any possibility to postpone?
Various doubts arise!

It is very common now a days!
Everyone forget one thing!
Time and tide wait for none!
Except time and life passed away,
anything may get back!

May take life time to recur!
No use of sorry later on!
Strike the iron when it is red!
Suitably apply to discharge duty then and there!

It is wisely said dull postpone!
Clever attempt the task instant!
Forget about If not Now When
Be ready to face itself now!

रोज़ा (उपवास) खाना पीना छोड़ देने का नाम नहीं है बल्कि हर उस चीज़ को छोड़ देना है जो ईश्वर को ना पसंद हो। ... (शकील उवाचा - 307)

अभी रमजान का पवित्र महीना चल रहा है। इस महीने में हर मुसलमान के लिए रोज़ा (उपवास) रखने को अनिवार्य करते हुए पवित्र कुरान में आदेश आया है। जो भी युवावस्था को पहुँचे लेकिन वृद्ध न हो, बीमार न हो, मुसाफिर (प्रवासी) न हो ऐसा हर मुसलमान रोज़ा रखना चाहिए। इसी तरह से युवावस्था को पहुँचे लेकिन वृद्ध न हो, बीमार न हो, गर्भवती न हो, प्रवासी न हो, बच्चों को दूध पिलाती न हो ऐसी हर महिला को भी और कुछ विशेष दिनों के अलावा रोज़ा रखना अनिवार्य ठहराया गया है।

रोज़े का असली मकसद भूख प्यास नहीं है बल्कि परमात्मा के आदेशों का पालन करते हुए अपने आपको गुनाहों (पापों) से बचाना है। इस बारे में पैगंबर साहब मोहम्मद (स्व.) के पहिले उत्तराधिकारी हज़रत इमाम अली इब्न अबूतालिब अलैहिस्सलाम फरमाते हैं के, "रोज़ा खाना पीना छोड़ देने का नाम नहीं है बल्कि रोज़ा यानी हर उस चीज़ को तर्क कर देना (छोड़ देना) जो अल्लाह (सु.) को ना पसंद हो।" (उर्दू पुस्तक तजल्लियाते हिकमत, प्रकाशक हैदरी कुतुबखाना, मुंबई, अल सोम 132, हदीस नंबर 6, पुष्ट क्रमांक 289)।

रोज़ा (उपवास) इंसान के केवल बदन (शरीर) को ही नहीं बल्कि नफ्स (आत्मा) को भी शुद्ध करता है। हज़रत इमाम अली इब्न अबूतालिब अलैहिस्सलाम फरमाते हैं के, "नफ्स (आत्मा) का रोज़ा हवासे खमसा (पंचेन्द्रिय याने

दृष्टि, श्रवण, गंध, स्वाद और स्पर्श) का तमाम गुनाहों से दूर रहना है और तमाम असबाबे शर (बुराई के साधन) से दिल का खाली होना है।" (उर्दू पुस्तक तजल्लियाते हिकमत, प्रकाशक हैदरी कुतुबखाना, मुंबई, अल सोम 132, हदीस नंबर 11, पुष्ट क्रमांक 289)। (नफ्स का अर्थ स्वयं, आत्मा, मानस, अहंकार को बताया जाता है।)

पवित्र रमजान महीने के आखिरी कुछ दिनों में अपने व्यस्त जीवन से कुछ समय निकालकर जितना संभव हो सके अल्लाह (सु.) की इबादत करने के इरादे से कुछ लोग अपना घर छोड़ देते हैं और मस्जिद में एकांत में बैठ जाते हैं। इस तरीके को "एतेकाफ़" कहा जाता है जिसका अर्थ एकांतवास होता है। पैगम्बर (स्व.) के समय में महिलाओं को भी मस्जिद में "एतेकाफ़" में बैठने की इजाज़त थी और आज भी इस्लाम के कुछ संप्रदायों में महिलाएं भी "एतेकाफ़" में बैठती हैं।

इस महीने में सबसे ज्यादा अन्न दान और वस्त्र दान किया जाता है। इस दान के जकात, खुम्स, सदका और फितरा जैसे अलग-अलग नाम हैं। ताकि यह दान समाज में अमीरी और गरीबी के अंतर को कम करने में बहुत उपयोगी है। इस्लाम में सूद लेने को हाराम (निषिद्ध) करार दिया है और दानधर्म के माध्यम से गरीब, जरूरतमंद लोगों की मदद करने का आदेश दिया गया है।

Questions, the foundations.

Question is the foundation for the human development. When the new question arise, history has a turn. Consciousness developed in peoples thought.

Question is not only request for answer.

It is to bring out various information.

About history, philosophy, it gives confirmation.

Questioner is in the logical and grammatic forms.

Some questions are selective ,elective.

And some questions maybe detective.

Questions are Royal routes to know psychology.

They are best weapons, to calculate intelligence.

Questions to know likes or dislikes or not important.

Of course ourselves about ourselves.

What? Where ? when? why? who ?how?

With the six types of questions ,we may conclude.

Question is burning weapon to grow consciousness. It is an equipment to know ourselves. Question is a path to reach our destination. Questions answer by dharmaraj as yaksha prasnalu, Nachiketa asked many questions yamadharma, And Learnt about the impossible Brahma Jnana. Bhetal prashnalu to Raja Vikramarka are famous. Questions are important in crime investigation. They are the foundations to bring out truth. Questioning is a good habit in the school children. They used for science and technology development.

To The Love of My Life

You walked into my life not long ago,
but it feels as if you have always been here—
a part of me I didnt know was missing,
a familiar Soul I had been searching for across lifetimes.

You are the calm in my restless thoughts,
the strength beneath my doubts,
the gentle voice that lifts me when the World feels heavy.

Every moment with you feels like a quiet miracle.
In your presence, I have discovered the simplest, deepest joys—
a shared laugh, a thoughtful glance,
the comfort of your hand in mine.

You are more than just my husband—
you are my guide,
my mentor,
my anchor,
my constant source of light.
You teach me without teaching,
you lead me without asking to be followed.

I look at you and I see intelligence wrapped in kindness,

patience colored by love,
a heart so vast, I can lose myself
and find myself all over again.

On your birthday, I want to thank the Universe,
the Mother Goddess every unseen force that brought you to me.
I do not need to ask for anything more.
In you, I have everything.

You are my home.
You are my peace.
You are the man my Soul has always loved—
long before we met,
long after time forgets us.

Happy birthday, my love.
I am endlessly grateful to walk this life beside you.

Give Respect, Take Respect

Respect is a fundamental virtue that plays a crucial role in shaping our relationships, building our character, and creating a harmonious society. It is a two-way street, where giving respect is just as important as taking respect. When we give respect, we demonstrate our appreciation, empathy, and understanding towards others. Similarly, when we take respect, we acknowledge the value and dignity of others.

Giving respect involves recognizing the inherent worth and dignity of every individual. It means treating others with kindness, consideration, and compassion. When we give respect, we create a positive and supportive environment, where people feel valued, heard, and understood. Giving respect also involves being mindful of our words and actions, and avoiding behaviors that may be hurtful or disrespectful to others.

On the other hand, taking respect involves being open to receiving appreciation, recognition, and admiration from others. It means being receptive to feedback, criticism, and constructive advice, and using these opportunities to learn, grow, and improve. Taking respect also involves being confident and self-assured, without being arrogant or entitled.

The importance of giving and taking respect cannot be overstated. When we give respect, we build trust, strengthen relationships, and foster a sense of community. When we take respect, we cultivate self-esteem, develop resilience, and become more effective communicators. By giving and taking respect, we create a culture of mutual respect, empathy, and understanding.

In conclusion, giving respect and taking respect are essential components of building strong, healthy relationships and creating a harmonious society. By recognizing the importance of respect and making it a core value in our lives, we can foster a culture of kindness, empathy, and understanding. As the old adage goes Give respect, take respect - its a simple yet powerful principle that can transform our lives and our world.

Prakash Raj Clears the Air About Betting App Ad Controversy

Actor Prakash Raj recently addressed the controversy surrounding his past involvement in promoting a betting app. He explained that in 2016, he had done an advertisement for the app, believing the message was true at the time. However, he quickly realized it was a mistake and chose not to extend his contract in 2017. Prakash Raj stated that he no longer works with any gaming apps. After the company was sold in 2021, his old ad was reused on social media without his consent, leading him to send a legal notice. He clarified that he had not received any updates from the police but is prepared to explain the situation if necessary.

Anchor Shyamala Approaches High Court in Betting App Promotion Case; Vishnupriya, Ritu Questioned

The celebrity betting app promotion case in the Telugu states has taken a new turn. Anchor and actress Shyamala, who was due to appear for a hearing on Friday, has approached the High Court to quash the FIR filed against her for promoting the Andhra365 betting app.

The court is set to hear her petition today. A case was filed against Shyamala at the Panjagutta police station for promoting the app. The police had issued notices for her to appear, but she chose to challenge the case in court. Several film actors and others are also facing charges for promoting betting apps. Earlier, anchors Vishnupriya and Ritu Chaudhary were questioned by the police. Vishnupriya was interrogated for about 11 hours, while Ritu was questioned both separately and with Vishnupriya. Ritu reportedly shared that Vishnupriya helped her with the promotions. The police are scheduled to question both again on the 25th of this month. They have reviewed Vishnupriya's bank transactions and asked about the funds she received from the betting apps. Vishnupriya said she promoted three betting apps and charged ₹90,000 per video. The police recorded her statement and seized her phone, though she was later released. Ritu's statement was also recorded, and her phone was seized.

Pellikani Prasad' A laugh riot with a quirky take on marriage

The film "Pellikani Prasad" with Saptagiri leading the charge, created much required hype from the date of its announcement. Directed by Abhilash Reddy Gopidi, the film's promotional content also grabs the attention of the audience. Now, as it hits theatres and let's see how it fares at box-office.

Story:

Prasad (Saptagiri), a 38-year-old working at a star hotel in Malaysia, is burdened by his father's insistence on marrying only if he receives a dowry of at least ₹2 crore. His search leads him to Priya (Priyanka Sharma), who dreams of settling abroad. Seizing the opportunity, she marries Prasad under the impression that he will fulfill her dream. However, when he refuses to leave the country post-marriage, conflicts arise. The film humorously unravels Prasad's struggles, revealing his true intentions and the impact of societal pressures.

Performances:

Saptagiri shines in a role tailor-made for him, effortlessly carrying the film with his impeccable comic timing and expressive acting. He seamlessly transitions from a desperate bachelor to a confused husband, delivering an engaging performance. Muralidhar Goud, as Prasad's father, brings depth to the narrative, making his moments both humorous and impactful. Priyanka Sharma plays her part well, adding to the film's entertainment quotient. Annapurna, Pramodini, and Pasha contribute effectively, ensuring that the supporting cast remains lively and engaging.

Technicalities:

Director Abhilash Reddy Gopidi, blends humor with relatable situations, making for an entertaining watch. Shekhar Chandra's music complements the film's humorous tone, with the background score enhancing the comic sequences. The cinematography by Sujatha Siddharth lends a rich, vibrant appeal, particularly in the song sequences. Madhu's crisp editing ensures the film's pacing remains energetic, though a tighter climax could have improved the overall impact.

Analysis:

While "Pellikani Prasad" treads familiar ground with its marriage-centric plot, the film stands out due to its situational comedy and relatable characters. The film is a delightful comedy that thrives on its light-hearted approach to marriage and relationships. It delivers plenty of laughs while subtly addressing societal expectations around marriage. The humor works well in most parts, although some jokes feel over-the-top. The climax could have been handled with more finesse, but the film ultimately succeeds in its primary goal—making the audience laugh.

If you're looking for a fun-filled entertainer with ample comedy, "Pellikani Prasad" is a worthwhile watch. Despite its predictable storyline, the film's humor and engaging performances make it an enjoyable experience.

MS Dhoni recreates 'Animal' with Sandeep Reddy Vanga

Ace filmmaker Sandeep Reddy Vanga, known for crafting intense and bold protagonists in films like Arjun Reddy, Kabir Singh, and Animal, has teamed up with none other than former Team India captain MS Dhoni for an electric bicycle advertisement. In a lighthearted spoof of Animal, Dhoni steps into the film's world under Vanga's direction, making for an entertaining and unexpected collaboration.

The ad cleverly reimagines Animal's high-energy moments, with Dhoni channeling the film's protagonist. He is seen stepping out of a black car in a stylish blue coat, mirroring the intense entrance scene from the movie. It also recreates the famous moment where the hero visits the heroine's house, along with the iconic hand gesture from the climax.

However, unlike Animal's raw and gritty tone, the advertisement takes a humorous approach, making it a fun and engaging contrast to the original film. The unexpected pairing of Vanga's signature style with Dhoni's charismatic presence has already caught the attention of fans, and the ad is currently going viral on social media.
